

ORIGINAL HOME DESIGN

Project Scope

Our client owns a residential development in on Flathead Lake in Montana. This lake is one of the natural wonders of the country - surrounded by mountain ranges and quaint, old western towns.

This home design was proposed by a prospective owner in the development, and I was tasked with lightening up the exterior to match the other development houses, and transform the design from the original arts & crafts look to a modern pacific coast cottage.

Roof Pitch and Height

Zoning requirements were such that the highest part

Windows

Where possible, add dormers and windows along rooflines where the design lacked features, and redesign existing windows to match the cottage-style design.

Materials

Replace various mixed shingle and siding with batten board.

Colors

Lighten and freshen the colors to match the development's cottage theme.
